BYLAWS

Editors note:

Alaska Statute AS 10.20.056 provides that the Board of Directors shall adopt the initial bylaws of a corporation. That statute further provides that the bylaws may contain provisions for the regulation and management of the affairs of the corporation not inconsistent with the law or the articles of incorporation. In summary, if there is no bylaw regarding a particular matter concerning the regulation and management of the affairs of a corporation, then the authority on how the Board is to proceed regarding that issue is governed by the laws of Alaska and the articles of incorporation. Since it does not appear that there have been any specific bylaws adopted previously, the Board of Directors are currently engaged in adopting bylaws in the order in which they deem to be most important to the regulation and management of the affairs of the corporation, as quickly as they can address those issues.

Current key-holding members of the Corporation are encouraged to identify issues which they believe may be germane to the efficient operation of the corporation which might be addressed as bylaws and to provide those ideas to the Board for consideration in due time.

The following are Bylaws which have been adopted by the Board of Directors of Snowshoe Gun Club as of the date indicated.

Also note that at the present time the bylaws are listed in order of adoption. At a later time the adopted bylaws will be organized by subject, section or other appropriate manner for easy review.

BYLAWS

(Updated as of March 13, 2007)

Classes of Members: There shall be two (2) classes of members described as follows:

Shooting Members: Any person who is at least 18 years of age who is not prohibited by state or federal law from possessing a firearm, who pays the annual fee set by the directors to obtain a gate key and signs acknowledgment of having read and agreed to abide by the club rules shall be a Shooting Member.

Voting Members: a) Any person who is a Shooting Member in good standing may become a voting member by:

1) providing an email or mailing address which the person has designated to be used for transmitting of notices of meetings and the like, whether or not that address is in the name of such person; and

2) paying the nominal administrative fee set by the directors to cover the applicable administrative costs associated with being a voting member, including adding the name of that person together with appropriate contact information to the official records of the Club identifying Voting Members and preparing mail or electronic mailing lists; and

3) signing a pledge of good faith and general intent to attend annual and special meetings of the members entitled to vote in person or by proxy.

b) Shooting Members in good standing may become voting members by complying with the above stated requirements at anytime before an annual or special meeting or during any such meeting before matters requiring a vote are moved for adoption. (Res. 2007-1, February 17, 2007).

Meetings of Members: There shall be an annual meeting of the members to elect directors, who shall serve until the next annual meeting, and to conduct such other business as may be set forth in the agenda. The majority of the board may also set on special meetings of the members. The location, day and hour of annual meetings of the members and for special meetings of the members, and the agenda of matters to be put before the members at such meetings, shall be determined by the board of directors.

Notice of Meetings of Members: a) Notice stating the place, day and hour of any meeting of members, stating whether it is an annual or special meeting, shall published not less than 10 days or more than 50 days before the meeting in a newspaper of general circulation in the central Kenai Peninsula. In the case of special meetings, the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called shall be included in the publication.

b) Notice to Voting Members. Notice to members entitled to vote shall be given not less than 10 days or more than 50 days before the meeting electronically to the email address provided by that member or by regular mail. Notice to members entitled to vote shall provide a copy of the agenda, or designate a web site where such agenda may be found. (Res. 2007-2, February 17, 2007).
